Igor Longhi

NEOCLASSICAL PIANIST & COMPOSER

A piano. A shared moment.

Igor Longhi is an Italian pianist and composer whose music grows from the emotions of everyday life. Classically trained from the age of five, he explored different musical worlds before returning to solo piano as a way to express his inner landscape. His compositions move between tenderness, melancholy and moments of light, inviting listeners to slow down and find a personal connection with the music. His lullaby Berceuse de la mer, written for his children, has surpassed four million streams on Spotify. On stage, Longhi creates an intimate space for shared listening, both as a solo pianist and through multidisciplinary collaborations: ARIA brings together piano and aerial dance, while COR CORDIUM explores a dialogue between piano and shibari.

Piano & production

A medium-sized grand piano (mezza coda) or larger is preferred. Igor can alternatively bring a weighted keyboard; sound reinforcement and the keyboard setup should be agreed with the organiser.

Piano Solo: acoustic piano tuned to 440 Hz on the day; two piano microphones, one speech microphone and piano monitoring. The original two-page Piano Solo technical rider follows this overview.

For ARIA and COR CORDIUM, request the project-specific technical requirements before confirming a venue. Travel, accommodation, soundcheck and the final setup are agreed for each engagement.
